Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Muhling et al. (5,169,400).

With respect to claim 1, Muhling et al disclose a medical screw and driver system comprising: an elongated screw (1) having external threads (3) and an internal bore (5) extending through the screw at least a portion of the length of the screw, the screw being at least partially formed from a bio-absorbable material; as set forth in column 3, line 68, column 4, lines 1-5; an elongated driver (7,8) having a non-circular cross-section shape approximating the cross-sectional shape of the bore, as set forth in column 3, lines 65-68, column 4, lines 24-40, the driver insertable into the bore and being matingly received therein to transfer rotational motion of the driver to the screw, the bore exhibiting a closely shrink-fit relative to the driver, as set forth in column 3, lines 25-50, column 4, lines 32-40.

With respect to claims 2-6,9, Muhling et al discloses all the limitations, as set forth in column 4, lines 1-5,19-23,30-40; column 2, lines 39-47 and as best seen in FIGS: 1-12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3732

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 8, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muhling et al. (5,169,400).

With respect to claim 8, it noted that Muhling et al disclose all the limitations, except for a ratio of an 15/85 blend of TCP/PLA, as claimed by applicant. However, applicant fails to establish the criticality of such a ratio. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reach the optimum range, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum range or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Claims 7,10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muhling et al. (5,169,400) in view of Tunc (5,827,287).

With respect to claims 7,8, it is noted that Muhling et al did not teach of a screw having an additive to the composition thereof selected from the group consisting of bio-absorbable glass, as claimed by applicant. However, in a similar art, Tunc evidences the use of bio-absorbable glass to cause nucleation and to form a self-supporting member.

Therefore, given the teaching of Tunc, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the additive of

Art Unit: 3732

Tunc in the composition of Muhling et al to cause nucleation and to form a self-supporting member.

With respect to claims 10-20, the method steps, as set forth, would have been obviously carried out in the operation of the device, as set forth above. Furthermore the combination of references taught of changes in temperature, bonding and melting; however, they fail to teach of a temperature between 70 and 100 degree Celsius from four hours to about eight hours; as claimed by applicant. However, applicant fails to establish the criticality of such temperatures and hours, and the examiner believes that any temperatures and hours could have been used, since the device would have performed equally as well with any given temperatures and hours.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
